

Attendance System

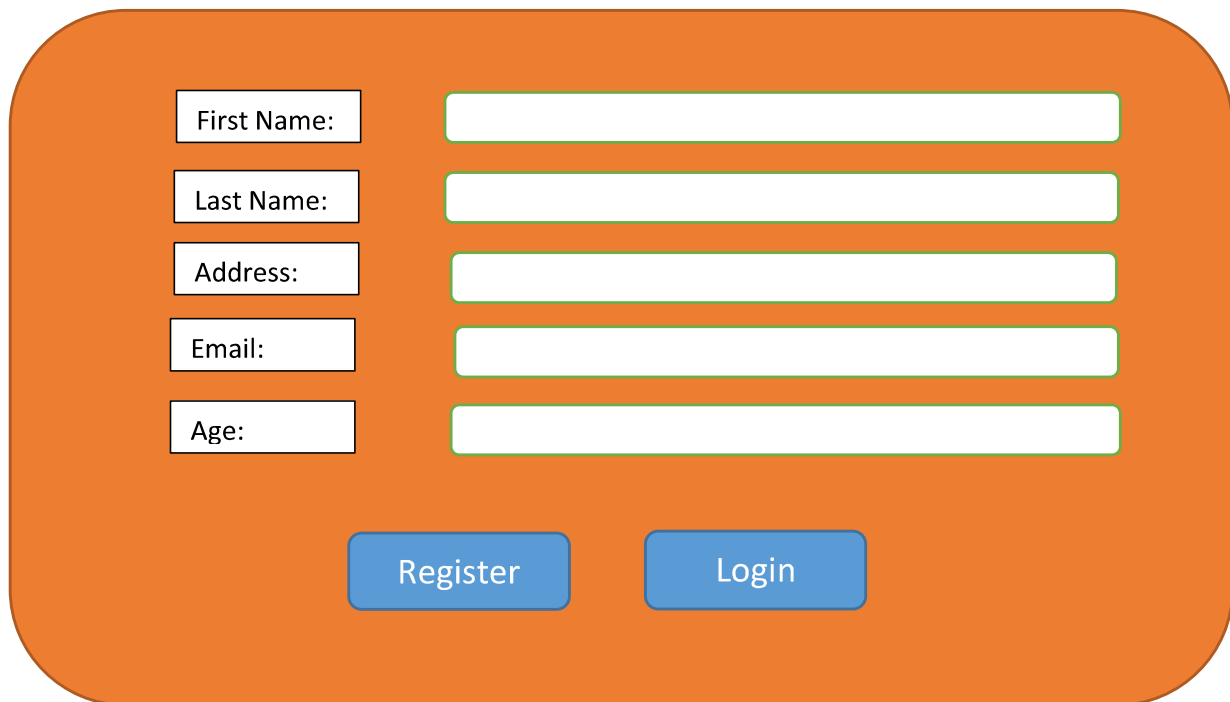

There are two users for that system:

- 1- Admin
- 2- 2-Employee

System Pages:

- 1- Home Page
- 2- Profile Page
- 3- Attendance Page

The first thing the employee will do as being a new Employee will be registering hi own data

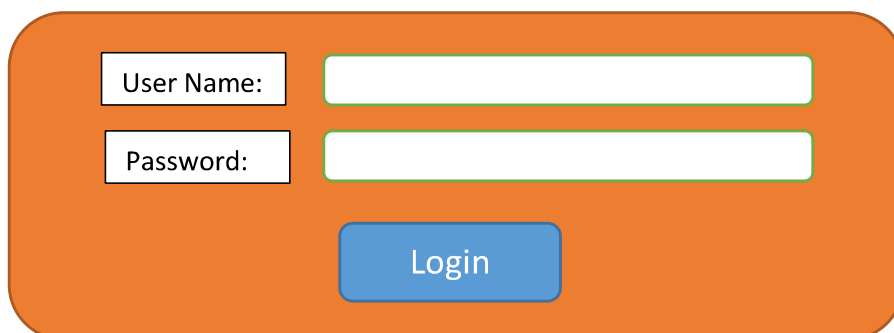

A registration form for a new employee, set against an orange background with rounded corners. The form contains five input fields, each with a label to its left: 'First Name:', 'Last Name:', 'Address:', 'Email:', and 'Age:'. Below these fields are two blue buttons with white text: 'Register' and 'Login'.

After adding the personal information, there will be a mail that will be sent to the admin holding the data entered.

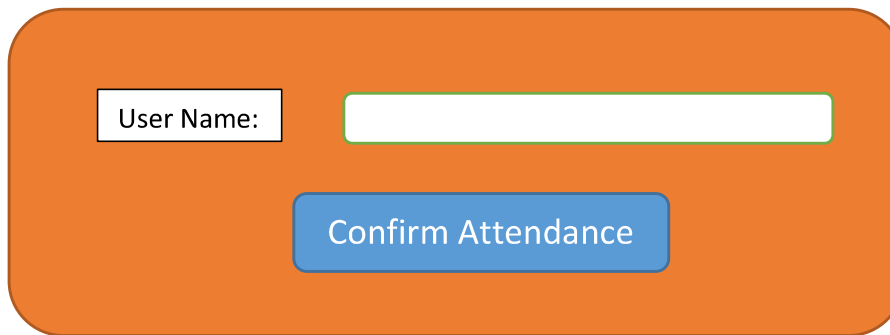

The admin will send a confirmation mail to the user holding a unique user name (Random Code) and a password.

The employee will then loin the system using those two fields.

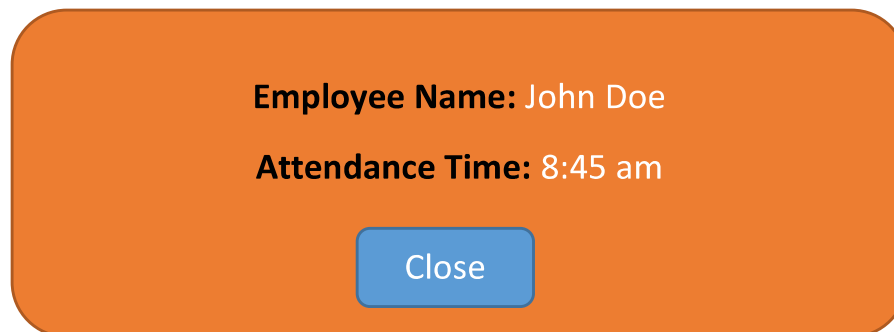

A login form for an employee, set against an orange background with rounded corners. The form contains two input fields, each with a label to its left: 'User Name:' and 'Password:'. Below these fields is a single blue button with white text: 'Login'.

The Attendance page will be viewed to the employee who is responsible for the attendance system.

A form for confirming attendance. It features a label 'User Name:' next to a text input field. Below the input field is a blue button labeled 'Confirm Attendance'.

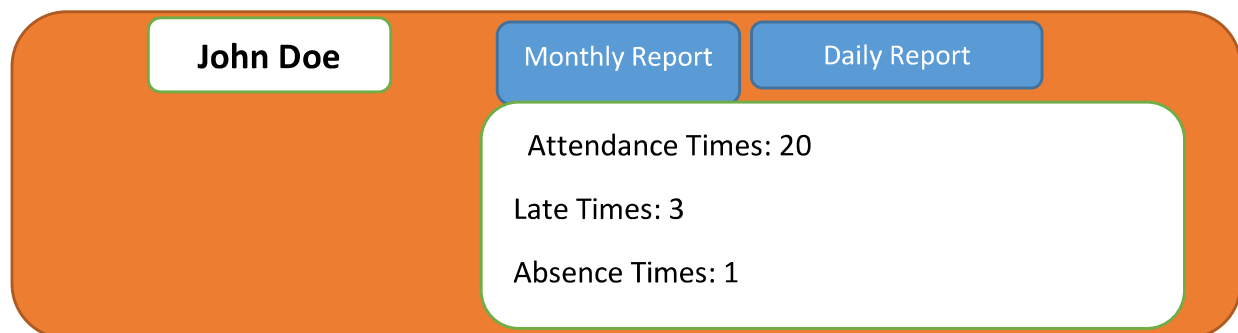

After recording that attendance another tab will be displayed to the employee containing his own name and the time he has attended.

A modal window displaying attendance confirmation for John Doe. It shows 'Employee Name: John Doe' and 'Attendance Time: 8:45 am'. At the bottom is a blue button labeled 'Close'.

There will be another reports to be displayed for the Admin and The Employee

The Employee will see the following reports:

A report card for John Doe. It includes a name label 'John Doe' and two buttons: 'Monthly Report' and 'Daily Report'. Below these buttons is a white box containing the following statistics:

Attendance Times: 20
Late Times: 3
Absence Times: 1

Required Reports:

- 1- Daily report that contains the employee details and attendance time
- 2- Monthly reports that contains the employee late times, Absence Times and Attendance times with details.
- 3- Any other added reports you want.

The Admin Panel will contain The Following:
